Donovan,

I have sent the easement application to Mike for him to review but he is out until the 6th. I have also created the design on our end for this and have a rough estimate to perform this work. As it sits, the current cost is around $22,000 to replace the pole that will be the new dead-end, trench across the neighboring property to set a new transformer and service, and remove the existing overhead lines once ready to be removed.

I will reach out once I hear back from Mike regarding the DNRC easement but don't hesitate to reach out if you have any questions in the meantime.

Thanks,

Tanner Reynolds

Hi Tanner,

DNRC application attached. The DNRC mentioned that Mike Cassidy was very familiar with these and would be a good person to review. It will also need an accompanying statement of necessity.

Proposed site plan also attached.
